

BENEFITS

Acclimation & Reduced Anxiety

Early exposure helps puppies become accustomed to grooming procedures, reducing fear and anxiety associated with grooming later in life. This sets a positive foundation for the future, promoting a relaxed and enjoyable grooming routine for your dog.

Foundations of Respect & Trust

Introducing your puppy to grooming early fosters trust and respect for boundaries as they learn to associate grooming sessions with positive experiences. This early exposure paves the way for a foundation of mutual understanding, which will enhance your relationship with your pet for years to come.
